

Marc Yates is a Jersey Partner at the law firm Ogier and is Global Head of the firm's Corporate and Commercial Team. Marc specialises in corporate transactional work, public offerings and creating and restructuring offshore structures.

A significant part of his work in 2009 has involved acting for a large group of companies in connection with multibillion dollar debt restructurings and an application by a Jersey company to have Jersey approved as a jurisdiction for listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. Marc also has a significant finance and banking practice, advising on acquisition and corporate finance structures and all aspects of bank lending, security and enforcement. Marc regularly travels to Ogier's Hong Kong office.
